

About Us

Unlike most "about us columns" our company was born amidst Covid-19 pandemic.

What started as 3 separate companies, 3 separate industries and 3 separate families soon became what I am proud to call STERI IPA.

In true South African style we "Adapted" and are proud to offer our essential services and Sanitation business.

As many fellow South Africans our businesses came to a screeching halt amidst LOCKDOWN.

Together, our vast experience across a wide range of industries and having all grown from employees to employers, we have come together in a huge effort to support our country, our people, our customers and our families.

Our aim

To supply our customers with the best quality products at the best rates.

As us, MANY other SA companies have adapted, converting their current product lines into essential PPE and related items

The import market is under enormous pressure and with the constant fluctuation of the rand dollar exchange, we have looked local as much as possible and urge anyone of these companies who, like us have "Adapted" to get in contact if they have something to offer at good rates.
